

DBT Informed Treatment for Bipolar Disorder

Bipolar Disorder (BD) is a serious mental health problem that typically creates chaos in an individual's life, often leading to risky and impulsive behaviors, damaged relationships and careers, substance use problems, hospitalization, and even suicide. Based on Sheri Van Dijk's ground-breaking work on using DBT with Bipolar Disorder, this webinar will briefly review the different psychotherapies being used to treat bipolar disorder, before looking at the efficacy of Dialectical Behavior Therapy in treating this illness, and delving more into how to teach some of the DBT skills most pertinent to clients with BD.

Target Audience

Psychologists Social Workers Counselors
Therapists Psychiatrists Nurses
